About Stephen Katsaros

Nokero is the creation of Stephen Katsaros, a Colorado native whose career is centered around innovation—ranging from product development to intellectual property. These activities have enabled Stephen to license inventions to sports companies (such as Dynastar Skis, K2, HaberVision, etc.) and build a transportation product company (RevoPower -- a motorized wheel for bicycles that gets 200 MPG at 20 MPH). He enjoys developing products and making dreams into reality. Stephen earned a Bachelors of Science Mechanical Engineering (BSME): Purdue University in 1996 and was a non-degree seeking student at the Bard Center of Entrepreneurship at the University of Colorado, 1998-1999. As a recognized leader in innovation, Stephen has received a B.F. Goodrich Collegiate Inventors Award in 1995. Stephen holds several patents issued by the US Patent and Trademark Office. Press Coverage include the Wall Street Journal, Denver Post, C-Spann, Popular Science, Gizmodo, Engadget, T3, Slashdot.org, Discovery, CNN.
